2.0 House Rules

Air Quality in the Guest House

Your help is needed to maintain a good climate in our house.

Please open the windows regularly during the day to avoid the building up of moisture, condensation, water etc. in all rooms and the kitchens.

Tilt and Turn Windows

Most windows and glass doors in Germany are “Tilt and Turn” windows. These windows are effectively three windows in one: they serve as a fixed window, an open window and a tilted window.

When the handle of a tilt-and-turn is in the downward position, the window is shut and locked. Rotate the handle 90 degrees so it points sideways, and you can pull the window open horizontally.

To tilt, begin with the handle in the downward (locked) position. Rotate the handle 180 degrees so it points up, and then pull it back down toward you. The window tilts inward, opening from the top rather than the side. It then locks into place after opening a few inches, resting at an angle.

Smoking

Smoking is strictly forbidden in the rooms and hallways.

Please limit smoking to outside of the Guest House, on the balconies, or on the roof terrace on the 2nd floor.

Pets

Pets (cats, dogs, rabbits, etc.) are not allowed in the Guest House.

Keys

The black electronic key is for opening the entrance door to the Guest House and your room door.

Instructions for using the black electronic key with LCD-Display:

1. Insert key in lock (please be careful!)
2. Wait a moment, after about 3 seconds the face on the display will smile 😊
3. Turn the key to open the lock

Swipe Card

All institute staff members receive a swipe card or chip that can be used as an electronic wallet. You can add money to your wallet at one of the charging stations located in the central building.

The charging stations accept Euro bills or debit cards for adding money to your electronic wallet. The minimum amount that can be added to your account is 5 Euro. We recommend not adding more than 50 Euro to your account.

You will need the card for payment in the canteen or to use the washing machines and dryers.

Guests who are not institute staff can buy a swipe card for use as an electronic wallet at the charging station in the central building.

If there is a remaining balance on your card or chip at the end of your stay, you can refund your money at one of the charging stations located in the central building.

Snack Machine

There is a snack vending machine in the MPI central building. If you have an MPI card you can enter the building 24/7. Otherwise just ring the bell-- there is always someone at the front desk to let you in or help you.

Book Swap

There is a book swap shelf on the ground floor just at the main entrance. During your stay you are welcomed to borrow a book or leave one if you need to get rid of some extra weight.

Roof Terrace

You are most welcome to relax on our terrace on the second floor. There you also have the possibility to smoke. This is the only smoking area open to all guests in the guest house.

Safe

For your convenience and security please keep your valuable items safe in the individual deposit boxes.

Water

Water in the Guest House is drinkable from all the taps.

Iron/ Ironing Board

Irons are available to borrow. You find them on each floor in the cupboard in the small corridor.

3.0 Cleanliness

Cleaning and Maintenance

All staff members who take care of the facilities do their very best to maintain a high standard of cleanliness and we want to make sure everyone has a clean room with all the basics on hand that are needed for a comfortable stay.

Maid Service

Cleaning services are once a week: the ground floor usually on Monday, the first floor on Tuesday, and the second floor on Wednesday. Our cleaners not only clean your room but also provide you with a set of fresh towels and linens.

Please make sure there is nothing on the floor and the room is accessible. No personal items should be on the floor hindering the entrance and most important: no waste/ garbage, organic or non-organic, should be left anywhere but in the bin.

Waste/Trash

All waste must go in the bin, which should be emptied regularly by you in the dustbins outside the building. Food waste must always be put in the kitchen bin or taken out the next day and put in the dustbins.

We want you and our future guests to feel welcome and at home, to enjoy the comfort of staying near the institute and to have all the necessary things provided at a reasonable price. Therefore, we ask you to help take care of the facilities. Please use and treat them with respect just as you would with your own home.

4.0 Communal Kitchens

If you use the communal kitchen, we kindly ask you to

- Store your food in the refrigerator or in the assigned place (depending if it is perishable or not). The box is marked with your guest room number in the cabinet
- Empty the refrigerator and the box when you leave the guest house
- Pay attention to the instructions for the use of the kitchen and its appliances.

We greatly appreciate your cooperation!

Kitchen Policy/Guidelines

A Self-Service Kitchen

The Guest House residents are responsible for the condition of our kitchens as it is a “self-service” environment that users are responsible for maintaining. We are privileged to have wonderful kitchen spaces but our privilege comes with responsibility: We must work together to maintain a sanitary environment.

To make sure that we have common understanding, below is an overview of the policy and guidelines for using our kitchen:

Cabinets

Kitchen cabinets are available for resident use. Please keep in mind that there are a limited number of cabinets and the space is shared. Be sure to label your personal items with your name if you would not like them to be used by others. ANY items used should be cleaned and returned to the appropriate cabinet.

Cleaning Supplies

Cleaning supplies are for everyone's use to keep the kitchen clean. Please use these with discretion as they will only continue to be provided if they have an "appropriate life span". Kitchen cleaning supplies are not to be used for room cleaning.

Dishes

Clean your dishes as you use them. DO NOT leave dirty dishes in the sink. Dishes should be washed, dried, and returned to their appropriate storage location. Abandoned dishes will be thrown away when found. Dish soap, sponges, and a drying rack are provided for your use.

There is a dishwasher in the kitchen. When having a large event, it is useful to use the dishwasher to clean up. It is not recommended to leave dirty (or simply rinsed out) dishes in the dishwasher BUT you should not run a load for only a couple of items

Please, only use TABS for the dishwasher, no washing-up liquid!!

Clean (wash & dry) all items you use and return them to their proper places. All users of the kitchens are welcome to use the community utensils but they should not be removed from the kitchen.

Serving Utensils, Pitchers, etc.

Please note that it is forbidden to keep kitchen items or take them with you when you leave the Guest House. It goes without saying that the items in the kitchen are for common use for our present and future guests. Please respect this.

- Please read and follow all signs in the kitchen.

- NEVER take kitchen items out of the kitchen! This includes plates, pots, pans and cutlery.
- NEVER take kitchen items with you when you leave the Guest House! This includes pots and pans.

Waste/Trash

Food waste belongs in the bin, never down a drain.

If a drain is clogged, please let Reception know immediately.

Kitchen table

Anyone who uses the kitchen table area is expected to wipe down the table when finished.

Labels

All food items, including items provided for community use, should be labeled. Clearly mark your food on the outside of its packaging or container.

Stove/Oven

Please use this appliance with caution. The stove and oven should NEVER be left unattended when in use. Any time either the stove or oven is in use, the exhaust fan should be turned on. The cleaning of the stove top and oven are also the responsibility of residents. The person using the stove/oven should clean it directly after use.

5.0 Amenities

Internet Access: Ethernet Port

Each room has an ethernet port for wired access to the internet. Extra cables are available at the Reception desk or from IT Support Services.

Wlan

Connect a network cable from your computer/device to a network port in a guest room. Ports labelled "vlan 10" are very likely to work, or you can simply try each network port in your room.

Wireless (WiFi)

Wireless internet access is available throughout the Guest House. Unfortunately, due how the house has been constructed, the signal is stronger in some places and weaker in others.

The open access, public, Wifi in Potsdam-Golm is called "MPIGUEST". Choose "MPIGUEST" in the list of Wifi SSIDs on your computer and then open a web browser (e.g. Chrome, Firefox) and try to browse to any website. You should be automatically directed to the Wifi portal. Please enter your email address for Wifi Internet access.

For support contact: it-support@mpikg-mpg.de or René Genz 0331 567 9681

Telephone

The telephones in the guest house can only be used for calls within the science park or for emergencies.

In case of emergency please dial:

- |      |                                                      |

From there the call will be forwarded.

Making phone calls in Germany (with an outside phone or mobile)

Calling from Germany is pretty much the same as any other country. Almost all foreign countries can be direct-dialed. For exceptions to this you have to ring the exchange at 0010 and ask to be connected.

When making a phone call, don't expect a "Hallo" or "Guten Morgen" from the other end of the line. Germans usually say their last name when picking up the phone. When calling, they identify themselves first before asking to be connected, so unless you want to appear pushy or rude, you should do likewise.

In some cases, you will be confronted by a recorded message when making a call. Below is a list of the messages that you're most likely to hear:

- Kein Anschluss unter dieser Nummer = This number is unavailable
- Dieser Anschluss ist vorübergehend nicht erreichbar = This number is temporarily unavailable
- Diese Rufnummer hat sich geändert = This number has been changed
- Bitte warten Sie, Sie werden in Kürze verbunden = Please wait, you will be connected shortly
- Bitte versuchen Sie es später noch einmal = Please try again later

Calling prefixes

For many foreigners, dialing in Germany can be confusing:

- To call a local number within your own area, dial the number only.
- To call to another area, dial the respective area code first. When calling from within Germany, you have to dial "0" followed by the area code (i.e. 089 for Munich). Area codes and phone numbers in Germany are of variable length: the bigger the city, the shorter the area code, so that 089 is Munich, but 07252 will be a smaller town. A list of area calls can be found in any phone directory.
- To call from abroad to a number in Germany, dial your international access number (usually 00), followed by the country code of Germany and then the area code without the 0 (i.e. 0049-89 for Munich)
- To call abroad, dial 00 before the country code.

Note that there is no standard for writing phone numbers in Germany. Some typical ways of writing a number include:

From abroad:

- +49 - 89 - 343 80 - 14
- + (89) 343 80 - 14
- 0049 (0) 89 343 80 - 14

Within Germany:

- (089) 343 80 - 14
- 089 / 343 80 - 14
- 089 343 80 14

Within a city, in this case Munich:

- 343 80 14

The dash (-) often separates a main phone number from an extension. If you don't get connected to this extension, you might be able to reach the switchboard by replacing the extension number with.

There is also a confusing variety of special code prefixes in Germany. Some of these prefixes can bear extremely high calling costs (up to €5/minute!), so you should be careful when dialing them. Below are some of the most important prefixes:

- 0190 or 0900: These numbers are used for premium calls (with premium rates!) and are often operated for "adult entertainment", but also include many customer hotlines. The cost of a call depend upon the extension (Mar 2004): from 0190-1.. = €0,62/minute to 0190-8.. = €1,86/minute. Numbers starting with 0190-0.. or 0900.. can charge any tariff so dial with care!
- 0180: the person calling and the owner of the number share the cost of the call. Calls to these numbers are less expensive than 0190 numbers and cost up to €0,24/minute (Mar 2004).
- 0800: These are free phone numbers with no cost to call.
- 0137: These numbers are used for telephone votes (i.e. for TV shows). Prices are not as expensive as for 0190 numbers.
- 016.. or 017..: These are the prefixes of mobile phone operators. Calls from a fixed phone to a mobile can be expensive in Germany, so consider using a prepaid phone card.
